Eco-Friendly

EARTH

Salamander's environmentally friendly EARTH leathers begin with an ultra-supple, top-grain cowhide, which is aniline dyed in our tannery, using an eco-friendly process with no chromium or other heavy metals. The natural-grain leather receives a clear protective finish combined with waxes for excellent durability, deep color, and an incredibly soft touch. EARTH leathers are easy to clean—an ideal choice for families with children or pets. Available in a range of fresh, new color choices.

VINTAGE

The fresh, full-grain, aniline-dyed steer hides chosen for our VINTAGE leather provide an excellent soft hand and drape. Waxes and oils applied during finishing create an age-distressed look. Scratches and marks rub out over time, leaving a rich luster and feel. A protective clear coat is added for durability. The natural markings and color variants of VINTAGE leather give it an authentically rustic look and make each upholstered chair unique.

LUSTRA

Full hides of supple, top-grain steer leather are carefully selected and aniline dyed to create LUSTRA leather for Salamander Designs' theater seating. Hand rubbed and hand stained with subtle oils and waxes, the leather is given a clear, protective topcoat, and then hot ironed. This quality and fine workmanship give LUSTRA leathers a soft hand—and a character reminiscent of Old English bridle—simply classic.
